陽に溶けて混ざる

Mmm...
Oh, you're finally awake?
Thank goodness
Hea
Hmm
I'm thirsty

That's why you should have just waited here for me while I got us water...
But sitting here by myself feels very lonely
I didn't know you were scared of being alone, Toki
Ahaha
Well
Just now, it really did feel like I wouldn't make it.
Seriously
Stop saying that.
You just had a mild heat stroke.

But it's been so hot out every single day
Maybe one day I'll just collapse on my way to school, or something
What are you talking about, all of the sudden?

such as?
Because I already collapsed once, you know?
So it's hard not to think about stuff like, am I happy? Am I satisfied with my life so far?
Such as Ryuuka
But the more I think about it, the more I realize... There are many things that I don't want to leave behind
I'm joking
Sorry, it must be the heat I'm saying weird things

I won't let you just disappear
Toki

Don't we still have a lot of things that we want to do together?
Such as?
Eh? Uh_
S-Such as lots of things! Um_

this...
Such as...

My original plan was to write about how because of a heat stroke, the spirit of Toki-chan got separated from her body. It's very hot these days so I'm very worried about Toki's condition.
